Protolabs Purchases a Third Machine

This month we announced the successful installation of a third Lumia.X1 Hi-Speed SLA system at Protolabs, a global leader in digital manufacturing and a trusted partner of ours. This milestone marks the next phase in Protolabs' expansion of advanced photopolymer production and further strengthens our partnership.

Just over a year after adopting its first Lumia.X1, Protolabs has strategically scaled to multiple systems to meet growing customer demand for high-performance photopolymer parts. This machine count increase enables greater capacity, broader application coverage, and reliable production at scale.

Axtra3D Returns to LabDay Chicago

Building off of a wonderful LabDay 2025, we are excited to be exhibiting again at the Chicago show in February. This year's booth will be highlighting the positive impact the Lumia.X1 has had for our customers, specifically for dental applications such as Die Models, Dentures, and Splint Manufacturing, plus how our partnerships with Oqcam and Nota3D further those successes to create effective changes in dental labs.
